

November's Writing Challenge

Jars

Find a jar, or container, ready to fill with topic titles, written on folded strips of paper. These might be topics of interest or topics your parent selects for you. You could even swap jars with a friend, for added challenge.

Pick out a title and write 3 interesting facts about the topic. If it is something you don't already know about, you'll have to read and do some research. You can do as many topics as you want over the month!

Have fun with the way you present your information. Illustrations are a great addition to any writing.

Perhaps one of your topics, of interest, could be the origins of Bonfire Night!

At the end of the month, bring in your writing and email any photos to

W4P@barnwood.gloucs.sch.uk